Notational Conventions

The manual uses the following special conventions in order to make the text more comprehensible:

Keys and key combinations are in bold text.

Menu items are written so that the hierarchy levels are separated by «|» symbol, for example: Edit | Add.

Controls are in bold and buttons are in bold and in brackets: [Save].

Program texts and messages are written in a special font.

Common type Guardant API functions are indicated using GrdXXXX pattern, where the prefix means «Guardant» and XXXX stands for the name of an operation. For example, GrdTransform indicates the operation Transform, which transforms a data block using a hardware algorithm.

Some important information is given in indented inserts. Please read them carefully in order to avoid possible mistakes:
